

Awards program managers the world over trust Award Force software to save time managing their awards, boost productivity and provide an unparalleled experience for their entrants and judges.

We deliver on that trust and our clients are vocal about the positive impacts Award Force continues to have on their awards programs.

Our dedication to providing great experiences, freeing up time for our clients and helping them grow their programs has resulted in recognition and awards of our own.

And we are now widely regarded as the world's leading awards management software. These achievements are driven by our company purpose to help our users make the most of their time, for the time spent with Award Force to be time absolutely well spent, and to give them time back to spend on the things they love.

We designed the Award Force software to provide our clients and their users with a sleek, smooth and streamlined experience.

Our awards program managers benefit from a comprehensive bird's-eye view over their entire program. They are empowered with time-saving features to help streamline their awards processes. And they can communicate with their program participants instantly and with ease.

We've gone beyond the expectation of awards management software by zeroing in on traditionally tedious and time-consuming offline tasks such as identifying duplicate entries or detecting plagiarism. And we've created solutions to minimise the impact on our clients.

Our world-class judging suite boosts productivity for judges too.

Award Force collates all entry information into one readily accessible online location and provides a variety of judging modes to power good decision-making.

And with built-in collaboration features and real-time notifications, judges no longer need to be in the same location to assess the qualities of the entries they're judging. They can collaborate from anywhere.

"So our team is split between Hong Kong and Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. But I think the software is something that we will be using to do this kind of cross-office judging.

You know, hop on a call, you know have the platform open. And then just click along the way as we go through each entry." - Jaqueline P'ng - The Other Hundred Healers

"The process has become a lot more seamless and less user error that we're able to gain more data. We're able to make it more user-friendly and we're looking forward to you know the next several roles that Award Force plays... From, you know, judging to our second round of judging and alleviate some of the, you know, man-hours that go into the calculation and review process.” - the Edison Awards

As you can see, Award Force has a demonstrable ability to increase productivity and collaboration. We've been widely recognised and recommended by our clients for not only saving them time managing their awards but also for giving them time back to do more.